

For Sale.

I've been tinkering for a few years with my brother in law's bulldozer. He decided to sell it so we made a video to supplement the advertisements.

Handheld cell phone capture (AVC,aac). Overcast skies, facing south, breezy, slight drizzle in the air.

Lightworks (with DNxHD license), Resolve (free), Fusion (standalone), ffmpeg, Ableton Live Lite (with assorted VST's), Ardour 3 (in Ubuntu).

Lightworks: titles, image keys, DVE, dissolves, blends, speed changes, color correction, 1080p YouTube preset

Resolve: stabilize

Fusion: composite still images

Ableton: filter, filter, filter, ..., mix

Ardour: final mix, sync

There are a lot of technical problems on this one. I'd rather not work on it all week, considering its purpose. I've been on it for two solid days. The audio took every bit as much time to work as the video. The wind noise was overwhelming.

That's me at the helm, BTW. 🙄

There's quite a lot, spread across the entire Gruen series range, to be had on YouTube. I agree with jwrl worth a look, particularly if you ever buy anything that's advertised.
