Hello,

That looks like a failure with frame order detection. This indicates, most Likely, that the Lightworks decoder has trouble with your original video material. There should be ways to fix it, but more information is needed.

I can imagine that the phenomenon is already visible in preview when editing, is it?

Could you post your computer details and a Mediainfo report of the footage, the video imported in Lightworks, please? Here you'll find instructions:

29.97 frames/sec

total bitrate: 5792kbps

data rate: 5664kbps

frame height: 720
