

[SOLVED - Good explanation inside] Audiomix Panel - Howto?

Posted by Schloime - 02 Apr 2012 19:41

Hello again,

Is there some guide around how to use the Audiomix panel? Honestly I am confused a bit by it, how all the numbers connect to the tracks... Sorry if it is a stupid-newbie-question again.

Thanks for your help,

Schloime

One other aspect about the audio mixer that is really odd is that the default pans on the tracks are centered, even though the default audio set up on the timeline is paired tracks, which would normally be stereo. I realized this after wanting to do a stereo output, (a music event with a mix feed from the board to track 1 and camera mic to track 2), for lower resolution editing and getting dual channel mono. Then had a look at the mixer and saw the centered pans (additionally the graphic on the panning "knob" is a dark blue circle that's not so easily seen).

Thought I'd pass this along in the hope it could save others some additional work in a similar situation.
