

re-install of windows 10

Hi. I hope someone can confirm if what I am planning will work. I recently had a Windows 10 update that seems to have corrupted my hard drive, so I can no longer boot windows. I am have installed my disk drive in another working machine and I am coping off all my data. All my video footage is on another unaffected disk, but I am in the middle of editing a film that has had 100 plus hour of work in it!!!

I hope to copy all the data held under my &quot;Windows USER&quot; folder. I believe this should include all the LTWKS project info. I will then have to reinstall windows and reinstall LTWS (which I notice is now 14.5 - I have version 14) If I then restore the saved data and launch LTWKS will I see all my projects just where I left them?

I know that the best way to save projects is to export them via LTWKS but that is not an option to me.

I am sure I am not the first person to experience this problem.

Shaun
